New Highway Opens Beautiful and Historic Section

By Bernard E. Whitt

No other road has been constructed in Morgan county which means more than the completion of the connecting link from U. S. Highway 460 beginning at the John Lacy and Wash Lacy farm on White Oak Creek to the Magoffin county line. This has been recently completed by the Licking River Limestone Company and I had the great pleasure to drive over the road Tuesday morning with Custer Jones, Judge Reed Halsey, Ren F. Nickell, Raymond Gose, John Helton and Bernard Howard. The road up the valley passes homes of Buren Griffith, Jim Kimbleton, Arnold Brown, Dillard Bailey, Carl Harper and Chris Lykins who lives at the Morgan-Magoffin line. All these men have nice homes and good farms with fine bottoms of corn and tobacco and some of the best hill land and timber in this section. The approach to the U. S. 460 is one of the nicest views found anywhere. It intersects with the highway at the John Lacy and Wash Lacy farms.

The valley is one of the best in Morgan or Magoffin counties. The people were hemmed in until the highway was built. Sometime ago a road was built into the upper valley to the Morgan line. The early settlers in this region were Elisha Oney, Matt Whitt, Jim Oney, Bill Oney, Lacy Harper, Jim Matt Oney, Ingram Whitt and Johnnie Wells. All these men were good farmers with good farms. Chris Lykins, son of Estill Lykins and Kate Whitt Lykins, married Myrtle Harper, Cris owns the farm and has a nice home. He said that the road was worth ten thousand dollars to him. We drove to his home and had a pleasant visit with him and his wife.

Gardner Oney lives at the Ingram Whitt place. He owns a large farm. While talking to him he said that it only takes a few minutes to go to West Liberty. Gardner is a brother of Ernest Oney of Lacy Creek and has a sister, Hazel, in New York City who owns good property adjoining Times Square and also some property in New Jersey. She was a teacher before going to New York. Warner Halsey lives just above Gardner Oney. He married

Rissie Whitt, aunt of the writer. He has a nice home and good farm. He has two daughters, Iva Gene at home and Mrs. Wanda Faye Gibson, who lives nearby. He has a son Winford at home and another son Lonnie Harvey in the U. S. Army in England, who recently married Miss Kathleen Marguerite Hunt, daughter of W. J. Hunt of Cambridge, England.

Ingram Whitt first married Louise Whitt, daughter of Harvey Whitt. Their children were Epp, John, Perry, Alifair, Callie and Kate, all deceased. After the death of his first wife he married Rebekah Lykins and their children are: Florence, Clinton, Edgar, Rissie and Gracie. All are living in Magoffin, except Florence who lives in Ohio.

Gracie Whitt married Lick Rissner and lives nearby. Florence married Sanford Whitley. She lives in Clarksville, Ohio. Clinton and Edgar Whitt live on Johnson Creek that flows into Licking River. Matt Whitt was the father of Ingram Whitt. He is buried on the point near where Kelly Oney now lives. His wife was named Sarah. Carl Harper lives near the Morgan-Magoffin line. He has been a rural mail carrier 41 years. Bill Dingus is Postmaster at Harper.

It has been related that Matt Whitt was plowing in the field just across from Gardner Oney when some one came along and gave him a drink of whiskey. Soon after he became ill and went to the house where he died very soon. I have been unable to find out whether it was poison whiskey or whether he drank too much.

Betsy Underwood of Tazewell County, Virginia, married a Doctor Whitt. They came to White Oak and settled there. It has been told that he had a fight and bit a man's ear off. Rather than stand trial and afraid he would be sent to prison he left and went to Indian territory and never returned. Some years after Betsy married a man by the name of Deskins and they had some children. However, all took the name of Whitt. She was a beautiful woman and it was said that a

Sheriff's Office Broken, Entered Here Thursday

The office of Sheriff Aaron Lykins was broken and entered Thursday night. When Mrs. Lykins came to the office Friday morning she discovered that the door had been pried open. One of the windows had also been opened and was partly raised. The door to a steel safe in the office in which valuable papers were kept was broken and had been pried open, but had not been opened. The thief evidently had been scared away before getting the door open. The sheriff thinks that it might have been valuable papers they were trying to get.

2 TO SPEAK HERE FOR CHANDLER

Mayor J. B. Wells of Paintsville and Walter Sebastian of Lexington will speak in West Liberty on behalf of Happy Chandler at the courthouse Wednesday, Aug. 3, at 4:00 p.m.

Chandler also will speak in Eastern Kentucky this week end. On Friday he is billed to speak at Jackson at 10:30 a.m. and at McDowell at 2:30 p.m. He spoke at Greenup and Maysville Wednesday.

Harry Lee Waterfield, Chandler's running mate for Lieutenant Governor, spoke at Sandy Hook Wednesday afternoon and went on to Huntington where he spoke over television.

MURPHY FOR STATE REPRESENTATIVE

TO THE VOTERS OF MORGAN AND WOLFE COUNTIES:

Being a man of moderate financial means, I have been unable to see and talk to as many of you as I would like to regarding my campaign for State Representative.

Of course choosing a Governor is of great importance to you people, but choosing a State Representative is very important too. I would like for you to remember that it is your representative who will vote for or against the laws to be enacted and that your Governor will not be voting for or against these laws.

Now as your candidate for Representative I promise you that I will support any legislation that will be of benefit to the schools of my district, also will support the cause of the veterans on any beneficial legislation that might be before the House. Especially will I do all in my power to help the aged and needy and will introduce or support a bill to remove the Old Age Lien Law.

I will also support legislation to pay a pension to all totally and permanently disabled persons in my district who meet certain qualifications.

Being a member of the Morgan County Farm Bureau and a farmer myself I will always be interested in the farmer's welfare.

I would suggest that you inquire of the citizens of my community as to whether I have always lived up to my promises. I would like for you to inquire as to whether my opponent has always lived up to his promises.

Believing you will support me August 6th by a reasonable majority, I am your friend,

EARL F. MURPHY

WATERSHED JOB IS EVALUATED BY STATE AREA MEN

A watershed examining team, composed of W. T. Waldrup, Soil Conservationist, Lexington; Herman McDonald, Soil Scientist of Ashland; Jack A. Jones, area conservationist, Ashland; A. L. Sohaney, State Forester, Prestonsburg; and Bradley Thomas and Berlye Brown, Soil Conservationists, West Liberty, made a preliminary field examination of the Grassy Creek Watershed this week.

The Grassy Creek Watershed Association held a special meeting of the officers and directors and district supervisors at the old Grassy Creek church Tuesday night where members of the examining party explained to the group the Hope-Aiken Watershed Protection and Flood Prevention Act and the responsibilities that are placed on the local people and groups, what has been done and objectives for the very near future.

The officers and directors plan to have their next meeting with the District Board of Supervisors at the same place at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 16, to formulate plans and objectives and to give committee assignments.

Officers present were: Glen Oldfield of Mize, president; Harry M. Ray of Sellers, vice president, and Glen Lacy of Grassy Creek, secretary-treasurer. The directors present were Charles E. Cecil of Hazel Green, E. A. Cecil of Murphy Fork and C. A. Fugate of Grassy Creek. Others present were: A. J. Oldfield, R. K. Nickell, C. S. Jackson, Asa Kemplin and Charlie Cottle.

A very high degree of interest and enthusiasm for the job ahead was manifested. Questions were answered about all phases of the program.

WOMEN FOR COMBS TO MEET TUESDAY

Mrs. Major Gardner, county chairman, announces that a meeting of "Women for Combs" will be held at the courthouse in West Liberty next Tuesday evening, Aug. 2, at 7 o'clock, slow time. All precinct workers and women interested in the nomination of Bert T. Combs for Governor are urged to be present. Refreshments will be served.

MET TO QUILT

Those who quilt at the Christian church for quilting July 21 were Mesdames W. H. Wells, Josephine McGuire, Eliza Wells, Grace Adkins, Vic McClain, Mary Davis, Dixie Carter, Grace Wells, Nanette Caskey, Maud Hord, Lucy Davis, Selma Pieratt.

Dixie Carter was in charge of the devotional, opening with the hymn, "My Faith Looks Up To Thee."

Subject, "Faith." Scripture, Matthew 17:14-20. Closing with prayer by Josephine McGuire.

HOME COMING HERE AUG. 27

Remember the date of the school homecoming—August 27, which is on Saturday, as usual. One of the biggest crowds, with guests from far-away places, is expected to be in West Liberty for that grand homecoming of students of the old Matthew T. Scott Junior Collegiate Institute and Morgan County high school. A meeting will be held soon to complete plans for the full day's program and entertainment.

Elect Lynn B. Wells Representative

TO THE VOTERS OF MORGAN AND WOLFE COUNTIES:

I am soliciting your votes at the AUG. 6, 1955, primary election, on my record, and on the program that I stand for in the event that I am elected.

I pledge you that when I am elected that I will vote and work for the repeal of the mortgage lien law on your old age pensions.

That I will work and vote for a law to give each soldier or his dependants in case he is dead a State Bonus for the last three wars. As I believe that this is right and just.

I will vote and work to repeal some state laws that are and have worked an injustice on the Mountain people, such as the strip mine law, the black powder law, and a number of others that I will not take space to cover here.

Several of you do not know that I have an opponent as he has not announced in any paper in the list, and occasionally runs his picture, but his name will be on the ballot.

Earl F. Murphy, as a member of the Legislature, voted his first vote for a gag rule. This bill limits the time allowed to explain any bill by all members to 30 minutes.

Now the Legislature operating under the gag rule, passed the land lien law bill but were cut off under the gag rule. My opponent Earl F. Murphy, sat in his seat, did not offer to say anything when the bill came up and when his name was called to vote on this measure he sat in his seat and laughed. They did not get enough votes to pass it on the first call and someone moved to call the Absentees. Mr. Murphy on a second call of his name refused to vote, and the bill received 51 votes. This was passed by one vote.

Earl F. Murphy, as a member of the Legislature, advocated and worked and voted for a bill to increase his pay by $100.00 on the day, and by reason of his vote he received $750.00 more than he would have received on the salary on which he was elected.

Earl F. Murphy wanted to have a further law passed to pay each member $100.00 per month for the two years of his office but this failed to pass.

Both candidates for the Democratic nomination have come out for a repeal of the land lien law on your old age pensions, and I am reliably informed that they do not want any member elected that will sit in his seat and laugh when such an important measure as this is being voted on.

I believe that it will be to your best interest to vote and work for the nomination of Lynn B. Wells, for the Democratic nomination for State Representative. You will find that this is the last candidate named on your ballot.

I am,
Your Friend and neighbor
Lynn B. Wells Atty.

COMBS TO SPEAK HERE SATURDAY

Judge Bert T. Combs of Prestonsburg, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, will address Morgan county citizens at a rally at the courthouse in West Liberty Saturday of this week at 2:30 p.m. Central Standard Time.

Judge Combs will speak in four other Eastern Kentucky counties that day: at Hindman at 9 a.m., at Jackson at 11 a.m., at Campton at 1 p.m. and at Frenchburg at 4:30 p.m.

A delegation of Elliott and Morgan county Combs supporters will motor to Campton to attend his speaking there and to escort him to the rally in West Liberty.

Grayson county farmers have selected a committee to buy sheep for starting new flocks.

The Kentucky Road Oiling Company (Ruth Bros.) of Frankfort and West Liberty has completed the bituminous surfacing of four roads in Morgan county totaling 13 1/2 miles. Raymond Gose, area engineer for the State Highway Department, reported this week. The four roads are—

1. The Grassy Creek-Helecha-wa road from US-460 at Grassy Creek to near the Salem church, a distance of 5.1 miles, surfacing, ditching, shouldering and rocking approaches.

2. The Grassy Creek-Wrigley road from US-460 at Grassy Creek down Grassy Creek to the mouth of Lower Long Branch, 2.85 miles, bituminous surfacing.

3. The Maytown road from US-460 at the Grassy Creek school house to Maytown city limits, 3.3 miles, bituminous surfacing.

4. Pomp-Yocum-Licking River road from Ky-7 near Pomp to junction with Ky-1002 (the Blaze road), 4 miles, bituminous surfacing.

The above four roads, Mr. Gose said were surfaced last fall but additional patching and resurfacing was done this year due to the winter freeze and base failures due to heavy traffic.

These projects consisted of bit-

J. Woodford Howard Appeals To People To Vote For Mountain Man

TO THE PEOPLE OF MORGAN COUNTY:

Never, in the long history of our state, have the people of our Mountain region been confronted with a more important political campaign than the current one for Governor, now nearing its close.

In view of its very deep meaning for all of us, now and in the years ahead, I trust you will not consider me presumptuous in suggesting some of the many reasons why I am interested in the candidacy of Judge Bert T. Combs. In doing so, I want to assure you that there is no group of citizens in our land for whom I hold a deeper respect, or greater affection, than the good people of Morgan County, where I was privileged to be born and reared and a place that will always seem like home to me—with the fullest implications that the word "home" imports. It is not my purpose here to say how any of you should vote, but rather to furnish some facts which may, or may not, be helpful in reaching a fair and just decision.

In the first place, I am in position to know Bert Combs AS A MAN. He was born in the little mountain county of Clay, where he worked on a hillside farm in his youth and went to school. His mother was a school teacher. Bert was ambitious to get an education and worked his way through college and law school, graduating as second highest in his class. He came back to the mountains, married a mountain girl, and started practicing law in Prestonsburg, Floyd County, in 1938. He had scarcely become settled in the practice, until like many another mountain man, he joined the Armed Forces. He spent almost four years in foreign lands where his services were recognized as outstanding by our Government and the Philippines.

On his return, in 1946, Bert and I became law partners and engaged in the practice together until he became a Judge of the Court of Appeals, our highest court, in 1951. Personally, Bert is an able lawyer with a keen mind—one capable of grasping and solving the many problems of government—and, the moral courage to do what he thinks is right and just. He is the kind of man who cannot be swayed from doing his duty, as he sees it, nor can he be lured away from fulfilling his obligations.

He is a genuinely kind and sincere person, with a well balanced sense of humility that goes with greatness. In his quiet and unassuming way, he easily makes and holds friends. His record as a public official is clean. You may trust him to carry into effect the straightforward program he advocates for Kentucky.

All my life, I have felt that the mountains have been neglected, in the political view. We have a chance now to elect one of our own. If we do not grasp it, it may never come again in our time. What promises do we hold out to our youth if we say: "Educate yourselves, live clean and hold your integrity inviolate—but, we must warn you that we mountaineers will not support one of our own for high office. Instead, we are moved by vengeance against others and not by love in our hearts?"

Think it over seriously, my friends. Study the records of the candidates and then follow your own good conscience.

Sincerely,
J. WOODFORD HOWARD

Chandler Victory Certain

Chandler And Waterfield Will Win By Big Majority

FIRST GOVERNOR —

TO START RURAL ROADS * STARTED THE FIRST OLD AGE AND WELFARE PROGRAM IN KENTUCKY * REPEALED THE SALES TAX * FAVORS REPEAL OF THE OLD AGE LIEN LAW * WILL SUPPORT THE MINIMUM FOUNDATION SCHOOL PROGRAM FULLY * WILL CONDUCT AN EFFICIENT ADMINISTRATION.

With only a few days until the Primary, it is time to take a critical view of the two candidates for governor, their platforms and records.

Both candidates are promising to repeal the old age lien law. In 1936 when Chandler was governor, he obtained the first money for old age pensions. The Federal Government required a lien on the property of the recipients before it was to match the state fund. In 1939 the Federal Government lifted this restriction and under Chandler as governor, it was repealed and then in 1953 Governor Wetherby persuaded the Legislature to put the lien back on property of old age pensioners. Now Happy Chandler is promising to repeal this law which the supporters of Combs passed. I have been closely associated with the welfare program in Kentucky for several years and know personally many old people who have been denied assistance because they would not sign away their little home.

The Road Situation follows much the same pattern. Under Senator Clements as governor the 2 cents tax on gasoline was passed. Kentucky had made great improvements which no one will deny. But the political machine has had hundreds of millions to spend. They boast of their great accomplishments. They would have you believe that they took the money out of their own pockets to build your roads. The actual truth is your money built the roads, they were receiving good salaries, and contractors who are in their good graces got the handsome bids. . . . They holler swimming pool at Happy. Could it be that they are a bit jealous because the gifts from the contractors were not quite as big? Waste! How many extra unnecessary men have been put on the highway in the past few weeks in their desperate effort to obtain votes for their candidate who is far behind? They are graveling and blacktopping your driveways now. If they were so interested in your welfare, why haven't they done so the past eight years? And you taxpayers who are not getting such personal attention are paying for it. Voters, these are hard true bare facts.

Schools and Taxes. It is not necessary to tell you that Kentucky Schools are at the bottom of the list. It should not be necessary to tell you that schools must have more money. Both candidates are promising to support the minimum foundation program. Judge Combs says he needs 25 million the first year and more the following years. Happy Chandler promises to cut out the waste of 10-15 million per year and put as item No. 1 on his program an educational program equal to the best. Of course Judge Combs knows he can't win an election on sales tax, yet he has told many of his intimate friends that we must have it. John Y. Brown in tying his candidacy for the Senate with Combs openly advocates sales tax and repeal of the state income tax. Repeal a tax which is based on the ability to pay, and put on a tax which hits the farmer and laborer very hard. Last year the income tax brought in several million in excess of what was anticipated, yet this coming year our schools will receive less than they received last year.

A teacher who for some reason does not wish to sign his or her name has been putting articles in the paper about the difference in salary under Chandler and today. Chandler's Administration had less than one-fourth the money the present administration has. Under Clements' Administration the teachers marched on Frankfort to protect against meager salaries and lack of funds for schools. They were highly insulted at Frankfort, reminded of how ignorant Kentuckians were, had to come home and now face even lower salaries than ever. About the same time, the Representatives and Senators at Frankfort raised their own salaries, and those of all state and county officials substantially, but not for the teacher. With state revenue of over 100 million dollars, teacher salaries should be four times what they were under Chandler's term.

If ever there was a time that we as citizens need to wake up and demand that any candidate for office put forth an effort to help his people it is now. Demand of a candidate that he devote his time to his duties and responsibilities to his people and not to keeping himself and his friends in office.

I have a very keen interest in this primary, not for any personal gain whatsoever, but because I feel it is a duty as a citizen of the people far outweigh the power of the state machine.

The people are not fighting Judge Combs, but are rising up against the dictatorial government under which we are now living. I have talked with men from east to west and north to south and find the sentiment the same everywhere.

Harry Lee Waterfield For Lieutenant Governor

Here is a candidate who will win the nomination by a tremendous majority. He has a very keen interest in progress in Kentucky, especially the school program. He will be of great help to Happy.

Vote for and nominate two outstanding men for our leaders the next four years.

Children Under Ten Must Be Accompanied By Adult At The Pool

Children under 10 years of age are not allowed in the West Liberty swimming pool unless accompanied by a parent or a person 18 years of age or older. This is a ruling of the swimming pool committee to protect against mishaps at the pool and will be rigidly enforced, Merle Nickell, the manager of the pool, said this week.

NEW INDUSTRY... NEW JOBS

It all came from Homer Steele's clogged rain gutter...

"There ought to be a way to get around this," said Homer Steele one September afternoon. He was perched high on a ladder that leaned against his house and was unclogging the rain gutters that had filled with wet, soggy leaves.

There was a way, too, and Homer Steele thought it up. As a result, he and his brother, Harry, later formed the Steele Manufacturing Company of Ashland which today produces the Steelco Gutter Screen.

The device is a reinforced wire mesh unit which fits over the guttering. The plant's eight production workers—whose jobs were created that September afternoon—produce more than ten thousand feet of the screen every day.

The firm also produces a line of plastics. As time goes by, there will be more ideas... more products. And more people to make them.

Ideas like these—once put to work—are helping this area. If you have such an idea, give it a chance to do some good. Tell it to the editor of this newspaper... or write to us, the Kentucky Power Company.

Eastern Kentucky will improve only as its people improve it—

TRIBUTE TO MRS. CADLE

MIZE, Ky., July 25—(By Gladys C. Nickell)—I join the mothers in Morgan county in mourning the loss of one of the United States' outstanding mothers, Mrs. E. Howard Cadle of Cadle Tabernacle whose homegoing came during the Cadle Tabernacle broadcast July 17. Her funeral was July 20 in the Cadle Tabernacle. Her son Buford reported that among the celebrities attending the funeral were the Governor of Indiana and the head man of WLW radio station. I feel that some responsibility has fallen on the mothers of Morgan county who enjoy the 6:15 CST feast each morning except Sunday from a man who has such a marvelous knowledge of the Bible and such a wonderful command of the English language as Dr. DeWierd. I feel that we should help with our prayers and offerings to preserve this work which will be a monument to the Cadle family through the ages and to a mother who never drank with her husband before he got saved but held high her Christian standards until victory came. I think every newspaper should carry her life story and picture. Her husband, E. Howard Cadle, held a meeting in West Liberty one time and many people were converted. I felt led to write this because many of my neighbors did not hear the radio or their radios were out of commission.

Rev. and Mrs. Harlen Murphy and Mrs. Berta Fugate were the dinner guests of the writer and family the 3rd Sunday. Also Danny Fugate and Othorn Huff were guests of Roger Lee Nickell that week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Murphy of Richmond, Indiana, son of Rev. Harlen Murphy, were special guests at Old Grassy church the 3rd Sunday.

C. F. Cecil returned from a fishing trip to West Virginia with his son Woodford of Huntington, recently.

Orville Hampton made a trip to Ohio to secure employment.

Miss Maxine Kidd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kidd, who is employed in Lebanon, Ohio, has been visiting her parents here.

Sam Oldfield is visiting his brother Roy here.

Mr. and Mrs. Murf Allen and Linda visited Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Allen of Grassy Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Castle, Patricia and Eddy spent the week end in Indiana visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Peyton of Ohio called on Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gevedon recently.

Jay, Jerry and Frances Stacy were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fugett of Stacy Fork other callers at the Fugett home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Peyton of Ohio, Paul and Jo Lacy of Stacy Fork and Mr. and Mrs. Junior Davis, and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Harvey and daughters of Salem.

Sharon Havens is visiting with her aunt, Mrs. Hobart Ross of Grassy Creek.

Harrison Stacy of Stacy Fork called on Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gevedon Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Buskirk visited with Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Adams of Grassy Creek Sunday.

TOUR OF STOCK FARMS MADE IN COUNTY 15TH

A registered beef cattle tour to farms in Morgan county was held Friday, July 15. Sixty-three people made the tour. Ray Hopper, University of Kentucky Extension beef cattle specialist working directly with the Kentucky Livestock Improvement Association, was present. Mr. Hopper was introduced at noon and spoke briefly about the association and the livestock industry. He said sheep would fit in well with cattle in Morgan county.

Registered Hereford herds seen on the tour were at Lane Hereford farms, Herbert Wells and C. K. Stacy's farms and the registered Angus herd of Norman Sheets was seen by the group.

A delicious picnic lunch was enjoyed by the group at the farm of Herbert Wells. Mrs. Helen Wells was hostess and the group had a nice time, some of them going back for second and third helpings of chicken, roast beef and cake served by the cattle breeders.

Special guests were Gay Blair and Pritchard Caskey of the Farmers Home Administration. Mr. Dowdy of the Bluegrass Stockyards in Lexington, Mrs. Evelyn Sinclair, Morgan county home agent, Miss Geraldine Cowan, assistant home demonstration agent, in training; Logan Loubderback, apprentice county agent in training, and County Agent Carl W. Sinclair.

Mr. Hopper praised the fine cattle and particularly praised the creep feeding operations for calves found on one of the Hereford farm.

Three Bermuda grass demonstrations in Graves county contain about 25 acres of the Costal Plains variety.

Who's Chandler Kidding?

IF Chandler spent like he promises:	$130,000,000.00
IF Chandler taxed like he promises:	81,200,000.00
Kentucky would have a Chandler deficit in 1956-57 of:	$ 48,800,000.00

Here is the proof:

Chandler is promising $45,000,000.00 a year in new state spending. Merely to continue current programs will cost $85,000,000.00. That is a total of $130,000,000.00 a year—or $520,000,000.00 for four years.

But Chandler says he would cut $2,800,000.00 year out of present state revenue by repealing the tax on betting at the Keeneland race track and lowering the cigarette tax. That would cut anticipated revenue for 1956-57 to $81,200,000.00 a year.

That is why there would be a deficit of $48,800,000.00 a year if he tried to carry out both promises of more state spending and reductions in taxes.

OBVIOUSLY, Chandler is trying to appeal to those who want lower taxes, and at the same time appeal to those who want higher spending.

OBVIOUSLY, he is kidding one group or the other.

The answer to that question can be found in his past record.

When Chandler ran for governor in 1935, he made the same kind of promises he is making now: more spending, but fewer taxes.

WHAT THE PEOPLE GOT WERE --- MORE TAXES.

In 1936, Chandler levied:

A 10% sales tax on cigarettes.	A 3% sales tax on water.
A 20% sales tax on candy.	A 3% sales tax on gas.
A 20% sales tax on ice cream.	A 3% sales tax on electricity.
A 20% sales tax on soft drinks.	A 3% sales tax on telephones.
A 20% sales tax on chewing gum.	A 3% sales tax on automobiles.
A 20% sales tax on nuts.	A new tax on individual incomes.
A 10-25% sales tax on amusements.	A new tax on corporation incomes.
A 20% sales tax on cosmetics.	A new tax on inheritances.
A new tax on auto drivers.	A new tax on chain stores.
A new tax on whiskey.	A new tax on wine and beer.

You can be sure that Chandler would be for more taxes and more spending in 1956.

He has not said he would not raise the rates of present taxes. Is this Chandler's SECRET PLAN to get money for more state spending:

1. Raise the State Income Tax by abolishing the credit for taxes paid the federal government by taxpayer. This would increase the average taxpayer's tax to Kentucky by one-third.
2. Raise the state tax on real estate.
3. Put the state into the liquor business through state-owned whiskey stores.

BERT COMBS OF THE MOUNTAINS

For as long as we can remember, mountain people have bewailed Eastern Kentucky's dearth of representation in government. And for as long as we can remember, mountain people have wanted a governor from Eastern Kentucky.

Now, when we have our chance to get a mountain man for governor—and a high type, honorable christian gentleman, a mountain boy who has come up the hard way, who has made good in all his endeavors and with no taint against his record, a record that all mountain fathers and mothers can point to with pride to their sons—his opponent from Woodford county is seeking by mis-statements, wild promises and a campaign of hate, to blind and prejudice our mountain people and all Kentuckians against one of our own.

Kentucky needs a governor like Bert Combs, a man who was raised on a hillside farm in Clay county, whose mother was a rural teacher, who worked his way through college, who volunteered and served four years when our nation needed men to fight totalitarian aggressors, a man who came back to the mountains and married a mountain girl, and began his life's work in a mountain county, and who has served with honor and distinction on our state's highest court.

Bert Combs has naught against his record or character. His opponents have found naught to criticize—naught except they seek revenge against someone who is supporting this native son of the mountains, or have become blinded by the many untruths and wild promises of his opponents. And his opponent, "Hawley," who has betrayed his party, betrayed his first friends, who has not denied peddling his influence for hire, who was kicked out of his $65,000-a-year job, and now seeks Kentucky's highest office for apparent revenge to "throw the rascals out."

We have been echoing the sentiments of the mountain people for many years that Eastern Kentucky needs more representation in government. These sentiments are not ours alone. They are yours. For we have heard them for decades, heard them from the mouths of farmers, from laborers, from office workers, from parents and from college sons and daughters. We have echoed them in our columns because we try to portray the hopes and aspirations of our people—and because we thought they were justified, honest and honorable. We still think them so.

Wisely or unwisely, we have believed in the oft-proclaimed American heritage that the poor are justified to rise to fame and fortune on his merits. We have believed this heritage applies equally to sons of the hills, and to the poorest as well as the rich, to the lowly as well as the elite.

Moreover, we have proclaimed our views that our hill people are the equals of the bluebloods of more favored climes. The purest Anglo-Saxon blood in America is preserved in the hills of the Appalachian region. Our hill stock has produced Fred Vinsons. It will produce other Fred Vinsons.

We think Bert Combs is another Fred Vinson, on the way up. And we think we all here in the mountains should give him a boost.

THE MAN AT MOREHEAD COLLEGE

Versatility well becomes any personage, but when a great many talents, or abilities, are inherent in an educator, we can be assured that that man will be more successful in his field for his branching-out. In particular, we are referring to Dr. Adron Doran, president of Morehead State College.

This man—we have discovered—is a consecrated man, and by that we mean a man of God.

This feature, above all, will assure his success at Morehead. When a college president can teach, preach and lead from the heart as well as from the head, he is sure to influence a vast number of people, and especially students.

This man is a learned man. His degrees are plural, yet they are not too obvious. His ability to converse in "little words with big meanings" keeps him in contact with his fellowman.

He is a modest man, never failing to let it be known that he is unworthy of the good things said about him. He truly believes in his unworthiness to accept praise that is accorded him, and in this belief makes himself humble—a characteristic that is all too rare among leaders.

He is a statesman. His concern over problems that might beset his college keeps him in constant watchfulness. Of integration he says, in content, "It is a state that should gradually work itself into our colleges. This way it will be more readily accepted by the public, than would be a sudden forcing of the issue. I think most people are becoming aware of the progress of integration, and I would not be surprised if we see integration in our college this fall."

He is a giving man—giving of his time outside his own college and community in order to get acquainted with the Eastern Kentuckians he hopes to serve through Morehead college; giving of his time to write personal letters to teachers, servicemen and others desiring answers to their educational problems.

He is a speaker, speaking with the color and cadence of old-time orators, but choosing his words with care, sincerity and modesty.

Some of these qualifications of Dr. Doran could hardly be classified as talents, but they are the qualities that will make him succeed and Morehead college continue to progress.

JUDGE BERT COMBS IS BY FAR THE BEST CANDIDATE

Paducah Sun-Democrat

What do Kentuckians, and in particular Kentucky Democrats, want in their governor?

Do they want a gentleman in the Kentucky tradition which produced Heintzen and Jefferson Davis, John Breckinridge and Louis Brandeis, Linn Boyd and Alben Barkley? Or do they want a demagogue and self-seeker?

In Judge Bert Combs, Kentucky Democrats have a candidate of distinction. Born of hard-working parents in one of the state's poorest sections, he is largely self-educated. He clerked for three years to save money to finance his law study, then despite holding down part-time jobs during three years at the state university, he completed law school second in his class.

Bert Combs volunteered in 1942 for Army service as a buck private, and served as an enlisted man for 15 months before being selected for, and successfully completing, officer training. He rose to the rank of captain, winning decorations for his overseas service from both the American and the Philippine governments. After the war he returned to the practice of law for five years.

In 1951 Combs was appointed to the Kentucky Court of Appeals to fill a vacancy, becoming one of the youngest men to serve on the high court. That November he won election to fill the unexpired term. It was a feat that should appeal to the state's Democrats. For in an area normally considered Republican, Combs defeated former Governor Simeon Willis of Ashland, one of the most powerful and successful lawyers in recent decades, by a comfortable majority.

Combs resigned from the Court of Appeals, in which his future seemed bright and pleasantly assured, last January to make this, his first statewide race. Only 43 years old, he is a quiet, unassuming man who at first made slight impression on the people as his friends began to introduce him around the state. That soon changed, as his personality began to be understood by the public and as he became better known.

Bert Combs' personality, it soon became clear, is not that of a timid or self-conscious man. It is that of one who has confidence in himself, who does not need brashness and baloney to make an impression. His speeches are reasoned and reasonable; he makes no promises that cannot be kept; yet he gives forthright support to measures and policies which he has assured himself are in the state's best interest. One of these is the minimum foundation program for public education; another is improvement of the health and welfare programs. He has not pretended that these can be achieved without additional revenue.

There is a reassuring consistency about the things Judge Combs says in his speeches throughout the state. There is no promising of one thing in one region, and of another contradictory thing in another—no playing of section against section. His ideas, his principles and his platform make sense. They appeal to the good common sense of Kentuckians.

If Kentucky Democrats want continued progressive administration of their state government; if they want a man they can respect, and upon whose word they can rely, as governor, Bert Combs is their man. He is worthy of this high office, and in the Democratic primary he alone is worthy of it.

IN OL' MORGAN

WANTS OLD RECORD, "THE BONHAM BUS LINE BLUES"

W. M. Bonham of Mason, Ohio who operated the Bonham Bus Line between West Liberty and Middletown, Ohio, back in the late 20's, was in Morgan county this week and told The Courier that he is trying to locate one of his phonograph records, "The Bonham Bus Line Blues." Mr. Bonham started the first bus line out of West Liberty in 1926 and operated it between West Liberty and Middletown in 1926, 27 and 28.

He used to sing and play the banjo. And he wrote "The Bonham Bus Line Blues" and had it recorded on a phonograph record. Several hundred were sold and he now is trying to obtain one of the records.

Mr. Bonham said the record had a banjo piece on the other side, "Rattlesnake Rag". Anyone having one of these records should contact W. M. Bonham, R. 1, Box 79A, Mason, Ohio.

The Courier—Enclosed is subscription for the paper. We would like to say hello to our friends and relatives in Morgan county, and if you happen to be passing through Brooksville, Florida, stop and see us. You will find yours truly working at the Chevrolet and Oldsmobile Garage.

The Truth Hasn't Figured Too Much With Happy Chandler

An Editorial In Thursday's Courier-Journal

Even if we ignore his other shortcomings, there remains one simple, inescapable fact that by itself proves that Happy Chandler is not fit to be Governor of Kentucky. A review of his campaign shows a shocking contrast between Chandler's statements and the truth.

At Brooksville, Chandler assailed the Wetherby Administration for "saddling our old people with this lien law," and promised to repeal it if elected. "I was the first governor to bring about old-age pensions," he said, "and I didn't put any liens on their homes to bring it about."

FACT: Happy didn't give anybody an old-age pension. In 1936 the legislature passed, and Chandler signed, the Kentucky Old Age Assistance Act, which simply took advantage of the federal Social Security Act of 1935. The federal act required no lien on the homes of people receiving assistance, but Happy approved an addition to the state law specifically requiring liens. At the following session of the legislature, an attempt was made to repeal the lien section of the law, but it died in Happy's "graveyard" committee when Happy refused to support it. One of those leading the fight for the repeal, and who criticized Chandler for his opposition, was Harry Lee Waters.

At Flemingsburg, Chandler said, "Why I was the one who provided free textbooks in the first place, and I provided the first money for them."

FACT: The first money for free textbooks was voted under Governor Ruby Laffoon in 1934. At Benton, Chandler said, "They say I'm against the park system. Why, I established it. They forget that I originated the state parks here (Henry Ward) now holds."

FACT: The first Parks Commission was established in 1924 under Governor William J. Fields. Charles Truesdell was the author of the law establishing it. Vance Prather, of Fort Thomas, was the first Parks Director, followed by Mrs. James Darnell, Mrs. Emma Guy Cromwell and by Bailey Wootton, who was appointed by Chandler.

At Ashland, Chandler said, "I promised to pay off the state debt and I paid it."

FACT: The state debt totaled $19,843,199.13 when Chandler took office. Yet, though he was left a $14,000,000 windfall of whiskey tax-revenue by the Laffoon Administration, he paid only $13,907,562.21 of the debt. It was finally paid off by Governor Keen Johnson.

At Frenchburg, Chandler said, "When I get back to Frankfort, I'll guarantee you that the state won't come in here making any more blanket assessments."

FACT: In 1935, Chandler campaigned against the state having the power of assessment review, yet his own administration exercised that power throughout his administration.

At London, Chandler charged that the present Fish and Wildlife Department is being "run for the wishes of a few men in Frankfort," and promised to "return it to the control of the sportsmen of Kentucky." He also promised to rid the department of "political control by dictators."

FACT: A bill was presented to Chandler's 1936 legislature by the League of Kentucky Sportsmen to establish Civil Service in the Division of Fish and Game. Chandler refused to endorse it, and it was not until 1944, under Governor Willis, that the Department was removed from strict political control.

Four times Chandler has said that when he came into office, the state per capita school appropriation was "six dollars and I raised it to $12."

FACT: The per capita school appropriation was $10.95 when Chandler took office. In four years it was increased to $12.19. Under Governor Wetherby it was $38.40.

At Frenchburg, Chandler asked, "Wasn't I the first to bring aid to the old folks and to the needy children?"

FACT: He was not. Through fumbling without in his administration, an amendment to the Constitution permitting aid for dependent children was not properly advertised, and could not be voted upon. Such aid did not begin until the administration of Governor Keen Johnson.

SWIMMING MEET IS HELD FRIDAY

A swimming meet, sponsored by Coach Glendon Stanley and members of the pool committee took place Friday afternoon at last week at the West Liberty pool.

The following children participated in the contests in swimming: Jamie Wells, Bobby Caskey, Donnie Gardner, Eddie Keeton, Billy Ed Gevedon, Herbert Wells, Paul Childers, Stanley Franklin, Joe Nickell, Danny McNeely, Bobby Nickell, Joe Stacy Nevis, Carolyn Spencer, Ginny Gardner, Janie Barber, Pat Kersey, Sandra Spencer, Margaret Lynn Whilden, Kelsey, Linda Emrick, Pam Perry, Nancy Gardner, Helen Stafford.

No contests were held in diving but all the above-mentioned children plus Charles Michael Price gave a diving exhibition from the three-foot diving board and also from the seven-foot platform.

Following the meet all the children who participated in the diving and swimming were treated to watermelon by Coach Stanley.

The following is a list of the swimming contests and the winners, the winners receiving cash awards of $1 for first and 75 cents for second place, and a ribbon for third place.

Boys, age 7 and under, overhand stroke, for 60 feet—Donny Gardner 1st, Bobby Caskey 2nd, Jamie Wells 3rd.

Boys, 9 and under, overhand, 60 feet—Paul Childers, Herbert Wells, Billy Ed Gevedon.

Girls, 9 and under, overhand, 60 feet—Patricia Kersey, Ginny Gardner, Carolyn Spencer.

4 ROADS SURFACED

tuminous surfacing of class C-1 asphalt mix at a depth of 1½ inches. The 5.1-mile project up Grassy Creek also had a water-bound dense graded base of 2½ inches.

Work orders have already been issued on two other surfacing jobs in Morgan county, Mr. Gose announced this week.

He said The Kentucky Road Oiling Co. (Ruth Bros.) started surfacing July 22 on bituminous surfacing on the Ezel-Kelley road from Jct. US-460 at Blackwater bridge, approximately 0.8 mile Southeast of Ezel to junction of Mussel Shoals-Kelley road, a distance of 5.1 mile. This road project consists of bituminous surfacing 1½ inches thick and ditching and shouldering and entrances surfaced with crushed limestone. This job is to be completed by Sept. 22. Contractor will complete Route-2 priming of this above noted road this week for dust control. The placement of two sizes of crushed limestone and asphalt is expected to start next week or just as soon as prime has cured properly. This contract was for $30,923.84.

Elkfork Road Work To Start

Gose further states that work orders have been issued on the Johnson-Morgan county road from 8.06 mile east of West Liberty near Elamton at the end of the existing bituminous surface and extend by way of Crockett and Relief to Red Bush in Johnson county, a total distance of 13.383 miles.

This extends into Johnson county a distance of 1.7 miles to the existing blacktop at Red Bush. Work orders have been issued to Kentucky Road Oiling Co. (Ruth Bros.), local road contractors, effective on July 29.

The engineering party here commenced staking this job Wednesday morning at Red Bush where the first work will start.

Gose announces that since all limestone for this project will come from Kentucky Road Oiling Co. and Licking River Limestone quarries, the waterbound surfacing will have to start at the far end of this project and work toward West Liberty. The local contractors have plans to move in on this job next week and start shaping a traffic bound limestone surface prior to placing prime or stone.

This road is known as the West Liberty-Pointsville road and consists of 2-inch waterbound base course, using 20,897 tons of stone and 1½ inches of bituminous surfacing top course, using 13,720 tons No. 9 and No. 11 limestone and 190,797 gallons of liquid asphalt. The waterbound course will be primed with emulsified asphalt using 63,599 gallons. This project was awarded to the low bidder for approximately $196,000.00. Bituminous surfacing is to be completed on or before Nov. 1.

The above roads are just another one of the many accomplishments in Morgan county which have been made in the past eight years in the highway construction program.

IN 28TH DAY OF HUMID WEATHER

Twenty-eight straight days of hot and humid weather has caused fungi to multiply, mild ear infections to start and drapes and house furnishings to mold.

Cause of all this is the extremely high humidity prevailing. Weathermen at Louisville reported Thursday that humidity at night reaches 100 per cent of saturation and ranges from 55 to 60 per cent in the daytime. The high humidity has prevailed for 28 days and meteorologists Wednesday said there is no hope for a change in the next few days. "Hot and humid with occasional showers" was the weather forecast for the rest of this week.

Fungi are multiplying and causing a blue-white mold on house furnishings, leather goods and in damp corners.

Several Kentucky doctors this week said there is an epidemic of mild ear infection caused by growing fungi. Fungi multiply when the ear becomes damp by perspiration or swimming. The disease is painful but not particularly dangerous, doctors said.

Until some cold weather moves in, Kentucky can expect more mold, mildew, swollen doors and windows, and musty smelling houses, the meteorologist at Louisville said.

The high humidity too is a contributing cause of easily-frayed dispositions and outbursts of temper among people, one doctor said.

SENATOR BARKLEY
(Mr. Democrat Himself)

ENDORSES
Judge Bert Combs
For GOVERNOR

Senator Alben W. Barkley who has always had the interest of Kentucky and the Democratic party at heart, urges Kentuckians to vote for Judge Combs. He says—

"I have watched the contest in Kentucky somewhat from a distance, for my duties in the Senate have kept me constantly in Washington and may do so until August.

"I have been trying to look through and beyond whatever chaff may have been threshed up in the campaign to find some real grain as a basis of my own desire as to how I should vote in the race for governor.

"In this process I have reached the conclusion that the nomination and election of Judge Bert T. Combs as governor of Kentucky would best promote the welfare of our people.

"He has conducted his campaign with a dignity that befits the office.

"He has shown a knowledge of state problems which is comforting.

"He has displayed a courage which is reassuring.

"He has exhibited a candor which is commendable and a little unusual.

"He has refrained from vituperation, abuse, vilification, and buffoonery, which is refreshing.

"In his discussions of the real issues, he has demonstrated a political and intellectual integrity which makes a strong appeal to me.

"He has an unblemished record of loyalty to the Democratic Party and its great service to the American people."

"These are among the reasons for my decision to cast my vote for him in the August primary."

FARM PLANNING MEET HELD LAST WEEK IN MORGAN

By Berlyn Brown

A Farm Planning Training Meet for the counties of North-east Kentucky was held in West Liberty last Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. The meeting was held in the new REA building and the field work was held on Harold Rose's farm at Bonny.

Soil Conservationists present were C. J. Hieronymus, Menifee county; John D. Alexander, Rowan county; Hugh Morrison, Carter county; Theodore Allen, Lewis county; Charles Ramsey, Boyd county; Marion Mason, Elliott county; Ray Becknell, Lawrence county; W. J. Cantrell, Magoffin county; Walter McKenzie, Johnson county and Martin county; Wayne Connett, Pike county, and Bradley Thomas and Berlyn Brown, Morgan county.

Soil scientists present were Herman McDonald, Ashland; H. A. Wallace, West Liberty; Herman Gilliam, Prestonsburg and Billy Wisenbarger, Morehead.

Others present were Jack A. Stoner, a conservationist from Ashland; Bill Morrell, Forester, Hazard; Robert Reynolds, Agronomist, Lexington; H. D. McMurty, Engineer, Somerset; and Hershel E. Zecker, soil conservationist on the program service staff, Lexington.

A dinner meeting was held on Wednesday night and Albert Dorsey, Vo-Ag, teacher at Ezel, was the principal speaker. Mr. Dorsey gave an enlightening talk on vocational agriculture and how soil conservation districts can assist each other. Guests present at the dinner meeting were G. C. Wells, Paintsville Chm. of Johnson county SCD and Dillard Murphy, Ezel, Chm. Morgan county SCD. Lunch on Thursday was eaten on the Bonny school grounds near the farm. The Morgan County SCD provided water-cans to supplement the lunch.

We wish to express our appreciation to all who helped make our meeting a success. We want to especially thank Harold Rose of Ezel, for allowing us to plan the farm, and the management of the Licking Valley REA Cooperative Corp. for allowing us to meet in their new air conditioned building.

Farm and Home Day Set For August 4th

The Morgan County annual Farm and Home Development Day will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hager Ray Sellers, on August 4, 1955.

The program for the day will go approximately as follows:

9:30 a.m. CST Registration by Morgan County 4-H Club members.

10:00 Welcome by C. S. Jackson, president of Advisory Council. Invocation by Rev. J. Ryan Nevius, Pastor West Liberty Christian Church.

10:15 Divide into groups to tour the farm.

12:00 Lunch pot luck.

1:00 Entertainment.

2:00 Tour home.

3:00 Adjourn.

As was shown on the program of events the tour of the farm will begin at 10:15 a.m. CST. During the tour the following enterprises will be toured: Sheep, Beef, Hogs, Garden, Strawberry and Pasture.

On this tour, which will be conducted by Carl W. Sinclair, Morgan County Agent, there will be comments on such things as production practices, varieties of crops, breeds of livestock, etc. Also there will be answers to questions that might arise from someone in the crowd, pertaining to some enterprises of CST.

After all the different enterprises on the farm have been toured a pot luck dinner will be enjoyed together.

Afterward there will be approximately one hour of entertainment. Following the entertainment there will be a tour of the home conducted by home agent, Evelyn Sinclair. Some points of interest to be brought out in the tour of the home are: the home water supply, deep freeze, kitchen, and bath room.

After the tour of the home the field day program will be concluded.

This annual Farm and Home Development Field Day, will be very educational and beneficial as well as enjoyable. Here people can share experiences, skills and better management.

Also people attending the field day will have an opportunity to learn and develop techniques in: sheep farming, beef farming, swine, crops, housing, and gardening. Kitchen arrangement, family food supply, relaxation and fellowship.

A program of events, interest, discussions and enjoyment have been planned. Everyone both young and old are invited to attend the field day.

MORGAN NATIVE PASSES IN OHIO

Eddie Cantrill, 43, died of a heart attack at Mansfield, Ohio, Tuesday night. He has lived at Mansfield the past five years. He was born and raised on Lost Creek, the son of John Cantrill.

Surviving are five sisters: Mrs. Ed Cantrill of West Liberty, Mrs. Jesse Marion Williams, of West Liberty; Mrs. Sanford Hamilton of Lick Branch, Mrs. Ed Ferguson of Catlettsburg; Mrs. Mertie Cox, Mansfield, O.; and three brothers, Ron Cantrill of Ashland, John D. Cantrill of Mansfield, and Joe Cantrill of Ashland.

The body was brought to the Potter Funeral Home Wednesday and funeral and burial were held at Lost Creek Thursday.

LOCALS BACK IN SECOND POSITION

West Liberty regained second place in the Eastern Division with a 6-5 victory Sunday over Irvine, previously in the runner-up slot, while Owingsville, the pace-setter in the Eastern circuit, took it on the chin for the third time this season as Beattyville surprised the loop-leaders in another corner.

Guy Strong and lanky Steve Hamilton, a pair of basketball stars at Eastern and Morehead, respectively, last season, staged a whale of a duel at Irvine. Hamilton got the nod when his mates presented him with a 5-1 lead in the third and scored the winning tally in the fifth.

Strong tried to help his own cause with a two-run double in the third with the game's only extra-base smash. Ed Miracle and Johnny Risen had two hits each for the losers while catcher Franklin got two for West Liberty. Hamilton fanned 10, Strong whiffed eight.

Irvine was hampered by five errors and left 14 men stranded on the base paths. The 5-1 Team standings are Owingsville in first place, followed by West Liberty, Irvine, Berea, Beattyville, Mt. Sterling.

Revival Is Progressing At 1st Church of God

The revival at the First Church of God on Broadway is drawing crowds each night and people are showing a great interest in spiritual things.

The evangelistic effort is peaking to meet the spiritual needs and problems of both parents and young people in this vicinity.

Several young people of West Liberty are already offering their talents in order to help make the revival a success.

Rev. H. C. Howell has won his way into the hearts of many because his love for people, the ability to help them and his forceful presentation of the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

All of the local churches are being represented each night and a welcome is given to all who so desire to be with us in this campaign to carry the wonderful gift of complete salvation to all people.

If you don't know us, ask about the church that preaches and practices the doctrine of a changed heart and life through the power of Christ.

Services start at 7:30 p.m. each evening.

GLENN MCALISTER PASTOR

Many a farmer has the cash he needed to buy a new tractor or other farm equipment because he put the money away earlier in U. S. Savings Bonds. The average useful life of a tractor is around ten years. In that time $750 invested in E Bonds will grow into $1,000.

The dealers paid $123,572 for 9,540 mink furs and $69,105 for 38,968 muskrat hides. A total of 82,661 hides of all species were sold.

THANKS FROM STANLEY

We wish to take this method to thank all our friends for their help and cooperation they have given us since we have been employed at Morgan County high school.

Mrs. Stanley and I feel that we are leaving a host of friends, but think advancement and opportunities are greater where we are going.

I wish to thank personally the students, especially the athletes, for they have been the ones that have made my record so successful at Morgan County high school.

We wish to thank the superintendents, board members, principals, fellow teachers, friends whom we have worked under and with during the past nine years for their help and cooperation.

To each of you, good luck!

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENT

I am no candidate and am not seeking any office. If I was I couldn't get it. But our present government needs an overhaul job, just like my truck did some time back. So I got a good mechanic and he took out rings, washers, rusted out pieces, put in new pieces so it runs like new. That's like our present government. It needs an overhaul from the main bearing on down to bolts, washers, nuts and cotter keys. Then put in Happy oil and Water.

Grease what old pieces is worth it, add gas and turn on the switch. Tell Happy to push the button and blow the horn and take off. She may run slow for a while, but it won't be long till times will be like new. Come on Kentucky, wake up and live. Vote for Happy, freely give. Don't sell out or trade. Don't fall to the mobs. They say, vote for Combs, or you lose your jobs.

World War II GI's Have Only Year To Complete Their Training Program

World War II veterans were reminded by Ray R. Adams, Manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Louisville, that they have one year from today in which to complete GI training. He stated also that the GI loan program will terminate two years from today.

July 25, 1956, marks the end of the education program for all but a few of the World War II veterans now in training under the original GI Bill, Adams stated. GI training payments to schools and veterans will stop on that date even though a veteran may still have unused training entitlement or be in the middle of a course.

The GI loan program, now at peak activity, has two more years to run, coming to end for practically all World War II veterans on July 25, 1957.

The small group of veterans exempted from those two deadlines are those who enlisted or re-enlisted under the Armed Forces Voluntary Recruitment Act between October 6, 1954, and October 5, 1946. These veterans have nine years from the end of their enlistment or re-enlistment to finish GI training and ten years to apply for GI loans.

MILITARY POWER CUTS

In one of his first speeches after assuming the post of Army Chief of Staff, General Maxwell D. Taylor declared that military man power cuts will require the reduction of United States ground forces in the Far East. The First Cavalry Division will be one of the units due to return soon from Japan without replacement, it is said.

Bangs Testing Program Finished In Morgan Co.

Three hundred head of cattle were tested for Bang's disease in the county Monday and Tuesday of last week. Dr. Charles Eastin, D.V.M. of Fayette county, is doing the work. The testing will be done in two-day shifts. Dr. Eastin finished testing cattle in the Ezel, Grassy and Maytown communities on Friday and Saturday afternoons.

Bang's disease is the most serious problem in both the beef and dairy cattle industry. A cow does not have to lose a calf in order to carry the disease. Often cows will abort one calf and then may carry their calves after that cattle carrying the disease may give undulant fever to humans either through the milk or working around the animals, particularly at calving time, according to the county agent. Undulant fever is hard to get rid of and it is definitely carried from animals to humans and infected animals can carry it through the herd.

After Friday the testing will not be held until August 1, 2 and 3 when the testing will be done in Lenox, Elkfork and the remaining communities.

HOME CONSTRUCTION UP

Construction of one family dwellings was up 28 per cent during the first three months of 1955, according to the Labor Department. Apartment building unit construction, on the other hand, was down 20 per cent from last year. A total of 679,000 dwelling units were put under construction in the first half of this year.

Eleven varieties of alfalfa are being grown on the farm of T. H. Walls, Ammons, Breckinridge county.

28 MORGAN 4-H'ERS AT FELTNER CAMP

Monday, July 25, there were 28 4-H club members who left to spend a week at the J. M. Feltner 4-H Club Camp at Paintsville. The counties represented by 4-H members this week are Morgan, Elliott, Menifee, Lawrence and Magoffin.

The following members went from Morgan: Joy Sue Caskey, Marcella Skaggs, Leona May Cantrell, Barbara Stamper, Ivis Lea Adkins, Mary E. Cecil, Donna Brown, Linda Lu Jackson, Aquilla Conley, Shirley Patrick, Paula Hamilton, Barbara Cecil, Joy Ruth, Jettie Back, Nannie Back, Helen Steele, Doris Steele, Carol Stamper, Billy Back, Hershell Ellis, Tommy Brooks, Jr., Robert Jay Adkins, Tommie Oldfield, Jr., Philip Nevius, Tommy Standaefer, Jimmy Standaefer, Darrell Murphy and Bobbie Pieratt.

Morgan county 4-H'ers conducted vesper service the first night at camp, with Aquilla Conley, county president, in charge of the presentation, assisted by eleven members.

During the week they will enjoy classes in casting, safety, personal development, handicraft, folk games, all kinds of guided sports, and other activities under the University of Kentucky staff supervision. The group was accompanied by County Agent Carl W. Sinclair, Home Agent Evelyn Sinclair, and her assistant, Geraldine Cowan.

The campers will be visited by the 4-H Council and parents on Thursday evening, July 28, and will return home Friday at approximately 11 a.m. CST.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH NOTES

It was a privilege to hear Dr. Adron Doran last Sunday evening. He spoke from Matthew 8: 10: "The Greater Faith." A good audience was present to hear him.

It was with sincere regret that we could not hear the Rev. Harry Keeton and part of his large choir this Friday night. Due to the serious illness of his daughter, his engagement was cancelled until a later date.

Supt. and Mrs. James Elam are leaving for Cleveland, Ohio, for a vacation and will attend the Sunday school convention in session there.

Rev. J. R. Nevius is attending the 4-H encampment at Lynne, but will return Saturday.

Prayer meeting Friday evening at 8 o'clock with Mrs. Louraine Hurley the leader.

Sunday services—Bible school at 10 a.m.; Worship service at 11 a.m.; Evening, 8 p.m. Rev. Nevius will preach at 11 on "It Is Christ The Man That Makes The Difference."

We were deeply shocked to hear of the car accident Sunday afternoon, involving Mr. and Mrs. Archie McClain and his sister. They were taken to Good Samaritan Hospital for treatment.

The Ladies Aid will meet each Thursday at 1 o'clock, slow time, for quilting. During the absence of our quilting chairman, Mrs. Vic McClain, Mrs. Oscar Caskey will be in charge. Anyone who enjoys quilting is invited to join us both in work and fellowship.

STANLEY WOMACK DIES IN CINCINNATI

Stanley Womack, who was born and reared in West Liberty, died suddenly of a heart attack Tuesday, July 19, at his home in Cincinnati. Funeral was conducted in Cincinnati, with interment in a Dayton, Ohio, cemetery Saturday.

He was the son of the late Judge N. P. Womack and Mrs. Womack. His father was Police Judge in West Liberty for many years before moving to Wilmore, Ky., and was Police Judge there until his death at the age of 96. It was said he (N. P. Womack) was the oldest Police Judge in the United States.

The deceased was a first cousin to Mrs. Harriet Baldwin of Fort Myers, Fla. and West Liberty.

Many a farmer has the cash he needed to buy a new tractor or other farm equipment because he put the money away earlier in U. S. Savings Bonds. The average useful life of a tractor is around ten years. In that time $750 invested in E Bonds will grow into $1,000.

AN EAST KENTUCKY MAN FOR LT. GOV.

To the People of Morgan County:

Jess Ward is the only Eastern Kentuckian who is a candidate for Lieutenant Governor in the Democratic Primary.

Jess is a native of Johnson county and would have a far greater interest in the affairs of Eastern Ky. than any of his opponents.

He is a disabled veteran of WWII and a past commander of American Legion Post 117 of Paintsville, Ky.

He is a graduate of Southern Technical Institute and is well qualified to fill the office of Lt. Gov.

Jess is experienced in the administration of Government affairs, having been Chief Inspector for the Dept. of Insurance, State of Kentucky.

We urge the people of Morgan County and of Eastern Kentucky to go to the polls on Aug. 6 and work and vote for JESS WARD so that he can work four years for you.

(Paid for by the friends of C-N 11 Jess Ward)

THE METHODIST CHURCH

Dr. Marvin P. McClure, district superintendent, will preach at the Methodist church this Sunday night and then hold the fourth quarterly conference afterward.

All officials of the conference are requested to be present. The public is invited to the service and to remain for the conference. Find out how the church conducts its business in this session. Officials for the next year are to be elected at this time.

Sunday guests of the writer and family were Mr. and Mrs. George McGlothlin, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Carpenter and Paul, little Miss Kathy and Rose Hunt, all of Ore Mone.

J. W. Knox of Missouri was called home last week due to the death of his grandfather. He was ready to board ship to sail for Germany. He is home at Owensville with his wife Evelyn and son Jimmie. He will report for duty Tuesday.

Edgar Harper, Salena Conley and son, Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Johnson, Sue, Chalmers and Martha spent Sunday at West Liberty with Finley Conley.

Sad News For You

"I must support Judge Combs . . . Mr. Combs has assured me he will keep an open mind on the subject of a sales tax . . . I must oppose the other candidate ("Happy" Chandler) because of his opposition to the sales tax."

SALES TAX

COMBS ASKS FOR $25,000,000.00 MORE

"Bert Combs tonight proposed a program that would cost the state (YOU and ME) an additional $25 million a year, starting in 1956 . . ."

—COURIER JOURNAL, JUNE 3, 1955

ALL THIS—AND NOW THEY WANT A SALES TAX

CLEMENT'S TAX RECORD

Increased property tax assessment in 69 counties.
Increased personal and corporation income taxes.
Increased income tax for married couples by reducing tax credit for married couples from $50 to $40.
Forced couples having a gross income of $2,500 a year to file a tax return.
Increased gasoline tax from 5¢ to 7¢ a gallon.
Levied tax on vending machines.
Increased price of auto dealer's license plates.
Increased state taxes from $50,605,086.24 per year to $79,097,502.23.

WETHERBY'S TAX RECORD

Blanket raises in property tax assessments in 69 counties.
Made permanent previous "temporary" increases in personal and corporation income taxes.
Increased income tax of married couples by reducing tax credit.
Forced all wage earners to pay two years' income tax in one year by starting a withholding plan.
Increased tax on cigarettes.
Levied 7¢ tax a gallon on fuels, other than gasoline.
Increased state taxes from $79,097,502.23 per year to approximately $100,000,000.00.

Don't be fooled by the talk that if a sales tax law is passed, the income tax law will be repealed. The Clements-Wetherby-Combs-Brown machine is on record as wanting an additional $25 million per year in taxes. This means a 14.8% increase in your taxes, and simple mathematics proves that they cannot squeeze this out of you without both the income tax and the sales tax.

NEW HIGHWAY OPENS BEAUTIFUL AND HISTORIC SECTION

large bear came near the house one day and she and the dog fought and killed it. She would strike it with a club and the bear would leap at her and the dog would grab it. They kept this up until the bear was killed.

Another quaint character was Jack Hiccupbottom. No one knew where he came from. He had no connection but came to the neighborhood and with his long rifle would hunt and kill game and lived in a small hut alone. On one occasion he bought a bucket of molasses from G. B. Allen and for some reason they made him sick. He took the molasses back and told the man he had poisoned him and told the man to eat the molasses or he would look through the signs of a rifle at him. There was nothing else the man could do. Boone Allen who lives in West Liberty remembers him.

Another story is told by Boone Allen of West Liberty who remembers Jack Hiccupbottom. He said that his father, Greenberry Allen, and other men were digging coal near the cabin where Jack lived and one night he dreamed that the earth was sinking where they were digging. Jack got his rifle and would not let them continue to dig coal. Boone said he lived on some land that Lex Whitte owned for years and finally some from Virginia came and took him back with them.

One of the oldest cemeteries in the country is near the Morgan-Magoffin line and is known as the Bill Oney cemetery. Custer Jones recalled that 55 years ago W. B. Parker sold Bill Oney a tombstone. Kelly Oney lives in a large two-story home across the valley from the Ingram Whitte place. His son Stanley Oney lives just below West Liberty. Mrs. Emma Markham, a daughter of Lyle Harper, lives in Salsersville. Her husband is a prominent merchant. Another family who lived in this section was Jim Davis' family. They moved to Oklahoma and now live in Tulsa. One of them, Frank Davis was a teacher.

Burns Brown who was sheriff of Morgan county several years ago lived in this community at the place where Arnold Brown now lives. He had a daughter, Mollie Brown, who was a teacher in Morgan county. She married Buell Reed and several years ago moved to Tulsa where they are now prominent business people.

Tobacco Bills Sponsored By Clements Approved

WASHINGTON, July 21—Three tobacco bills sponsored by Sen. Clements (D-Ky.) won approval of the Senate Agriculture Committee yesterday.

One would require tobacco growers to vote for quotas for three years or one. At present they may vote for one or three year quotas.

The second would permit a farm to abolish production of turley tobacco without losing its previously established quota, providing the operator plants at least 50 per cent of his quota in turley in one out of each five-year period.

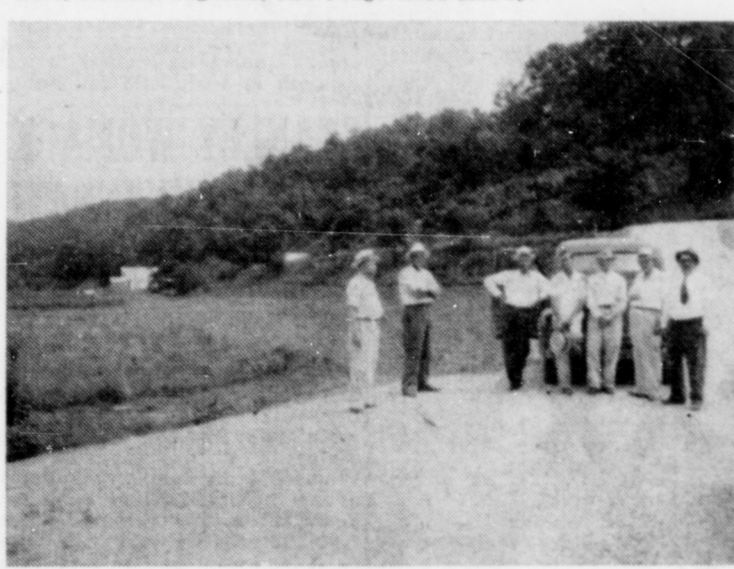

The third measure is designed to plug a loophole in previous legislation providing that tobacco planted in excess of allotment would not be considered in establishing quotas in future years.

SCENE AT the fill and approach of the Morgan-Magoffin Highway where it intersects with U. S. 460 at the John and Wash Lacy farm. The culvert is 62 feet long and said by engineers to be one of the nicest and best culverts to be constructed anywhere. The work was done by the Licking River Limestone Company of West Liberty. Standing above the culvert is Edward Dennis, Raymond Gose, resident engineer, and Judge Reed Halsey.

VIEW DOWN the valley near the intersection with U. S. 460. In the distance can be seen the home of John and Wash Lacy, and the hills beyond the house are near the home of Bernard Howard and where J. Woodford Howard, former senator and now prominent attorney at Prestonsburg, was reared. Standing from left to right are: Custer Jones, Bernard E. Whitte, Raymond Gose, Bernard Howard, Ren F. Nickell and John Helton.

VIEW AT the Morgan-Magoffin line looking up White Oak Valley. To the right in the distance can be seen the home of Kelly Oney. Near his place is the grave of Matt Whitte, the first settler. At the left just off the highway is the site of the old Whitte home where Gardner Oney now lives and nearby is the home of Warrin Harvey whose wife is the daughter of Ingram Whitte. It is said to be the place where Mrs. Matt Whitte killed a bear. Left to right: Raymond Gose, John Helton, Cris Lykins, Custer Jones, Bernard Howard, Bernard E. Whitte, Reed Halsey, and Ren F. Nickell.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodford Benton and son Coleman of Montgomery, W. Va., spent Sunday with her father, Wm. B. Ferguson and her sister, Mrs. Lilly Elam at Cannel City.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Blair and Mrs. Ella Blair entertained to dinner Monday Rev. and Mrs. Oliver Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Carter and daughter of Germantown, Ohio.

KECK TO MAKE 2 COMBS SPEECHES

Judge John A. Keck, circuit judge of the Morgan-Elliott-Carter district, will speak twice in Morgan county next week in the interest of Judge Bert T. Combs for Governor.

Judge Keck is billed to address voters of the eastern section of the county at Crockett school Monday evening at 7 o'clock Central Standard Time.

After he appears on Huntington television station Tuesday night at 8:30-5:45 Central Standard Time, he is tentatively scheduled to address voters at Ezel on Wednesday night at 7 o'clock.

BERT COMBS in 1945. The picture was made at a rest camp in the Philippines a month or so after the end of war with Japan. Combs, now a candidate for governor, served in the army from Sept. 15, 1942 to May 19, 1946.

Vets Chairman Appointed for Combs

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 25—Appointment of Dr. Ralph Gullett of West Liberty as veterans chairman for the campaign of Bert T. Combs in Morgan county was announced here today.

Dr. Gullett will work with veterans groups and with individual veterans and their families in organizing for Combs throughout the county. His appointment was announced by the state Veterans for Combs Committee which is lining up veterans organizations in all counties.

The state group is headed by David Martin, Franklin, Pete Peterson, Auburn, and William A. Young, Frankfort, Co-chairman. They are assisted by an advisory committee of 25 other veterans.

The organization has described

Combs as "the one candidate who is both a loyal Democrat and a true veteran."

Combs served for nearly four years in the army during World War II. He enlisted as a private in September, 1942, was promoted to corporal several months later and was graduated from officers training school in December, 1943.

He was assigned to the Philippines early in 1945 and served there as chief of the Investigating Section of the War Crimes Department. He was decorated by both the American and Philippine governments and was discharged as a captain in May 1946. If elected, Combs will be the first World War II veteran to serve as governor of Kentucky.

DR. RALPH GULLETT APPEALS TO VETERANS TO SUPPORT JUDGE COMBS

To The Veterans of Morgan County:

To meet and know a man of deep thought and honest sincerity for the people of Kentucky is a great privilege we really have. To have this man, Judge Bert Combs, for our next governor, will leave no doubt of "Putting Kentucky First."

Everyone knows what Judge Bert Combs stands for and may well have confidence in his accomplishing these much needed tasks.

Judge Combs' political opponents can find no fault in him or his platform but have to oblige themselves by attacking some of his loyal supporters (rather ruthlessly). Judge Combs' platform is clear, concise and constructive. One of his main objectives is better schools of which we are in desperate need. He has stated numerous times in every part of the state that when elected he will put the Minimum Foundation Program into full effect. That alone will give Morgan County 2½ to 3 times more State money for our crowded schools, underpaid teachers and helpers. Judge Combs has gone further and outlined the only possible and practical way to accomplish this the first year he is governor.

Judge Combs is for a progressively better and enlarged rural and state road system and better parks, more places for our children and youth to release their unending energy constructively rather than ending in delinquency.

We all know of Judge Bert Combs fine service record in World War II and we will soon know of his fine record as governor of this great Commonwealth.

I sincerely and firmly believe that if we are to have good schools in Morgan County and Kentucky we will have to put Judge Bert Combs first so that he may "Put Kentucky First."

RALPH L. GULLETT, M.D., Chairman, Morgan County Veterans for Bert Combs for Governor. (Political Advertising)

HOLLIDAY (By H. H. Holliday)

July 25—Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Ross of Norwood, Ohio, came in Friday. They plan on buying a new car at West Liberty but as they did not have the model and color they wanted they decided to wait and come in again soon and make the buy.

Mrs. Lucy Holliday and Harrison Holliday attended the 4-H club meeting at Trace Fork on Thursday of last week. The assistant county agent talked to the boys about their projects, and the assistant home agent, Miss Garline Cowan, talked to the girls on their canning projects. Vice President Scott Hopkins presided over the meeting and the minutes of last meeting were read by the secretary, Robert Hopkins. Mrs. Pilly Hopkins, Mrs. Ray Stapleton, Mrs. Cora Hopkins, Mrs. Annie Hopkins were present. After the club meeting was over they enjoyed a volleyball game.

Several of this community attended the REA farm show at West Liberty and all enjoyed the meeting and are still wondering how the man escaped from the steel tank which was locked.

Acy Stamper who has been working in Middletown for a while, was with his home folks here over the weekend.

Sammy Orey had as visitors the past few days Mr. and Mrs. Gene Higgins of Franklin, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. Polly Allen and family of Exel.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Haney who run the hardware store at West Liberty stopped for a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Holliday Sunday.

COLLEGE PROF WRITES TO SUPT

The following is a letter written to Carl Stewart, superintendent of Morgan county schools, from Luther M. Ambrose, Project Director of the Rural School Improvement Project—Dear Mr. Stewart:

It is with mingled emotions that I write this letter. First, with appreciation for the friendly cooperation you have given me and Mr. Robbins, our supervisor, in working out in your schools the plans for improvement embodied in the Rural School Improvement Project. Second, of sadness that this will be my last contact with you for at least two years, as we leave the United States for work in Thailand. Third, of pleasurable anticipation that the knowledge and experience I have gained in working with you and your teachers can be used to help the children of Thailand in their schools. Fourth, of real satisfaction that the director of the Rural School Improvement Project will be in the capable hands of Mr. Pat Wear.

I want to tell you that one of the richest rewards to me personally in working with the Rural School Improvement Project was the opportunity to know and work with the fine group of county school officials in eastern Kentucky. I know that two years from now, when I return to Kentucky, I will the schools in Morgan county much improved and staffed by better-qualified teachers working in better school buildings—all made possible by the full implementation of the Minimum Foundation Program.

The country of Thailand to which we go, is, we are told, the key to the success of a non-Communist Asia. They are a free, land-holding and highly literate people. They are our friends and appreciate our technical aid. They have just increased their elementary school system from four to seven grades and have asked help in in-service training of the teachers in these extended schools and in training supervisors.

The most important item in this letter is the announcement that Pat Wear has been named Director of the Rural School Improvement Project. He will be available for assistance in your pre-school conference in August. Write him early if you want him on the program, or his help in planning.

Mr. Wear has been on the Berea College Education faculty since 1950, and since 1952 has been giving two days a week to Rockcastle County as special supervisor and helper. He has been teaching elementary education methods courses in reading, arithmetic, and science. He has worked closely with me since the beginning of the Project.

Mr. Wear, who has been teacher, principal, and supervisor came to his work in Berea and the mountains from western Kentucky. He was educated in the public schools of Murray, Kentucky, and received his AB in 1939, and his MA in 1948 from Murray State College. Between these two dates he spent 3 years in the armed forces of the United States. He has completed his work for the PhD at the University of Kentucky and expects to receive his degree at the summer convocation.

The supervisory staff continues as before—Mrs. Mabel C. Jesse, Mr. Charles Kincaid, and Mr. Warren Robbins.

Some new teaching fellows have been added this year to the program, and some have dropped out. Some have only one more year under the Project, and some have two.

I wish for you and the Morgan County schools a future of success. Since I am not severing my relations with Berea College, I will also say for Berea that our resources are at your disposal in so far as we can be of service.

Household Shower

Mrs. Roger Vest of 467 Maple Ave., Lexington, was guest of honor at a household shower at the home of Mrs. Volney McGuire Saturday afternoon. The house was decorated with beautiful cut flowers from Mrs. McGuire's garden. Mrs. Drexel Vest of West Liberty was co-hostess. Chicken salad sandwiches, potato chips, petit fours, and soft drinks were served. Mrs. Vest received gifts from: Cora Vest and Ella Gay, Rebecca May, Eva May, Bertha May, Ollie Carpenter, Bertha Gibson, Eula Lardieri, Lucille Kemplin, Mary Kemplin, Irene Vest, Alma Roberson, Nova Childers, Oma Roberson, Bernice Henry, Bertha McGuire, Oney Henry, Mae DesJardins, Ruth Vest, Helen Vest, Bertha Rowland, Minnie Gibson, Anna Gunnell, Letha Evans and girls, Golden Wheeler, Mary Jo and Carol, Nancy Ferguson, Grace Fugate, Mary Henry, Opal Henry, Venus Henry, Maggie and Elizabeth Gibson, Rose and Evelyn Gibson.

Homemakers Meeting

Woodsbend Homemakers met at Woodsbend school July 11 to complete their copper and brass tooling project. Mrs. Sinclair and her assistant, Miss Cowan, gave late information, advice and leaflets on canning and freezing vegetables. The afternoon's work ended with Mrs. Byron May serving a birthday cake in honor of Mrs. Dexter Evans' birthday. The next meeting will begin the new year and will be the second Friday in September at 1 p.m.

First On The Ballot

Progressive Business Man is Seeking Democratic Nomination for RAILROAD COMMISSIONER
Third Kentucky District

I appreciate the thousands of good solid people who supported me in my 1952 race for Congress of the Eighth District, and if you will do the same job for me this time, we will be a sure winner.

This Railroad District comprises forty-four counties. This is a very important office and every voter should not forget to vote in this race, as it means much to you.

The duties of the Commissioners are to approve or disapprove services of all the railroads of this state, and to see that the public gets a fair deal. If you people honor me with this office, I promise you that I will not be a rubber-stamp; that all my decisions will be based on justice and fairness for all concerned.

I will be just as interested in making you a good servant as I am in securing your support. When we put capable men in office we have hope. A state is as progressive as its management. I regret it will be impossible for me to meet all voters in person.

Your vote and influence will be appreciated. Thanks.

W. D. "BILL" SCALF, Barbourville, Ky.

Many a farmer has the cash he needed to buy a new tractor or other farm equipment because he put the money away earlier in U. S. Savings Bonds. The average useful life of a tractor is around ten years. In that time $750 invested in E Bonds will grow into $1,000.

The Marion County 4-H Club Association has invested $400 in government bonds.

No. 3 Article In Series "Situations are Causing Attendance Problems"

The situations leading to poor attendance we will discuss at this time deal with conditions prevalent in the home. The family can do a great deal in correcting existing home conditions that interfere with the child having the best home environment.

Where the family fails it is the duty of society to see that these children receive an even break.

More points causing attendance problems are given—

4. Children from homes where the relationships in the home are of such disturbing nature that they cannot face school life. Poverty and insecurity contribute to poor attendance. A number of things may bring about this situation; we will discuss four of the worst offenders—

(a) Chronic drunkenness within the immediate family. This condition exists more often than any other. A drinking parent or parents not only cause the rest of the family embarrassment, but through their desire to fulfill their lust for alcohol, the things that are absolutely necessary for health and comfort of the family are neglected. The child is made to feel insecure, because he can put no dependence upon his parents. One of the prime duties of a parent is to provide a rock of security for his growing youngster.

(b) Poor health of some member of the family. The earning power of the family is impaired if either parent is incapacitated. A child may have to stay home to care for some member of the family who needs constant care. Too often this condition is exaggerated at the expense of the child being kept out of school.

(c) Parents who utterly disregard the rights of others. Failure of parents to adjust to the laws governing a civilized society gives their children a feeling of fear or in some instances disregard for law enforcement itself. Punishment, that often ensues when a parent is not law abiding is far-reaching in the harm it does the child. Many cases of neglected children can be traced to failure of their parents to respect the rights of others.

(d) Children without adequate food, clothing, and shelter. In our land of plenty this condition should never exist; communism, not democracy, thrives on the lack of these basic needs. A child well fed, properly clothed and with comfortable home living will naturally be able to do a better job in his school work or any endeavor he engages in for that matter. We think of ourselves as having the highest standard of living this world has ever known. We have, but there are numerous instances of lack of the basic necessities of life.

Society must give aid to people in these sub-marginal situations mentioned above in order to help bring up their standard of living. Economic Security, Aid to Dependent Children, and Health, Education and Welfare have done much to help relieve the underprivileged.

5. Lack of necessary routine in the home regarding sleeping, eating and studying. Too often parents, who are really interested in their children's welfare fail to insist upon a schedule for their children in doing the routine things. This not only results in time wasted, but may prove detrimental to the child's physical and mental health. We tend to form habits of behavior early in life. It depends upon the type of training we receive whether the behavior patterns are good or bad. Good habits—eight hours sleep, eating proper foods, and devotion of adequate time to study and preparation for life's work are as easily formed as poor sleeping, eating and study habits. A habit, good or bad, when once formed is difficult to break; it generally is followed throughout life.

Parents, be firm and insist upon proper habit formation. It is one of the best tools you have in helping your children toward a happy, well-adjusted life.

A child whose home conditions are favorable can readily adjust to school life. Let's help our children become adjusted. Let's have good school attendance during the coming year.

ANNOUNCING OUR NEW LOW-COST FUNERAL FINANCING TO THE PUBLIC

You no longer need to borrow money for cash funeral expense. We are now in position to finance your funerals. No matter how expensive or how low the funeral cost, it will suit your needs.

If you are a farmer, we can give to you a single payment Farmer's Plan, payable in 3, 6, 9 or 12 months when your tobacco crop is sold.

If you have a monthly income, we can offer you a 12, 15 or 18 months plan to pay monthly. Or we can give you a single payment plan to be paid when an estate has to be sold for funeral bills of old age pensioners.

Many are now using this plan and find it to be helpful and non-burdensome. In case of death of persons liable for the funeral expense, the balance is automatically paid up and leaves no burdens on those of the family that remain.

For further details on financing funerals, see—

Fred Blackstone Redwine Is Only Eastern Kentuckian That Seeks Attorney General Office

Only one of the Democratic candidates for the Attorney Generalship can claim to be a "mountaineer" in this year's primary election.

Fred B. Redwine, who hails from Sandy Hook, and is now assistant Commonwealth Attorney of Jefferson county, is the only one of a field of six who originated from a point east of the center of the Blue Grass region.

Redwine, native Elliott County, has family ties that extend throughout several Eastern Kentucky counties—Elliott, Boyd, Greenup, Carter, Morgan, Lawrence, Magoffin, Rowan and Breathitt—and include persons who have been active politically.

A great-uncle, Judge David B. Redwine, Jackson, was chairman of the Music Hall Convention in Louisville which nominated William Gobel for Governor.

The candidate's grandfather, Judge M. M. Redwine, Sandy Hook, was successively Commonwealth Attorney, member of the House of Representatives, Circuit Judge and County Attorney.

Judge Redwine was the brother of Judge D. B. Redwine and Dr. John Redwine of Jackson, Ky.

His father, too, Virgil H. Redwine, Sandy Hook, former member of the General Assembly, has served as County Attorney several terms—a post he is now filling.

Fred's family is rooted deep in Elliott and surrounding counties. His mother was Miss Effie Sparks, daughter of Jim Sparks and the granddaughter of Joel D. and Eliza Robinson Sparks. His paternal grandmother was Miss Belle Greene, member of another pioneer Elliott County family.

Fred Redwine attended public schools in Elliott County and Hazel Green Academy, and later graduated from the University of Kentucky law school.

His capacity as a lawyer has been demonstrated by repeated assignments to positions of importance.

IN LOVING MEMORY
Of My Daddy John Trimble

Three months have passed and gone since Daddy was called away. So sad and sudden was the call for one we loved so dear. There is no tongue can tell, but he is not dead, he is only sleeping, watching and waiting for Jesus to come. Our hearts are sad and so lonely. He will always be remembered by those who loved him. Dearest, I will meet you some day. More and more each day I miss you, and friends may think the wound is healed. But they don't know the heartache that stays with us still.

It seems I can hear you say, Press on, dear daughter, it will not be long till we'll meet over yonder. Sadly missed by his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Doolin and family of Dehart, Ky.

BIRTH OF DAUGHTER

Second Lieut. and Mrs. Paul E. Haney of Quantico, Virginia, announce the arrival of Kimber-Lea Jean Saturday, July 16, at the Naval Base Hospital in Quantico. The baby weighed seven pounds and three ounces. Mrs. Haney is the former Ruth Evelyn Franklin of West Liberty.

Fred B. Redwine
... qualified, and asks support of the people of his native Eastern Kentucky

portance, in all of which he has served acceptably. In 1949 he was named Secretary of the Workmen's Compensation Board, and filled that position for three years until he was offered appointment as Assistant Commonwealth Attorney of Jefferson county, a post he now occupies.

Capable and imbued with a thorough knowledge of the law, and its practical application, Redwine is recognized in the legal profession as one "fitted for the task" of the State's highest legal officer.

He married the former True Culbertson from Pike County. He has long been active in Democratic party affairs, serving as a precinct worker in all elections. He also belongs to the Young Democratic Club, Mose Green Club, Methodist Church and is a Scottish Rite Mason.

in the large economy size!

Surprising, how little it takes to put this big dreamboat in your driveway for keeps. And your dollars couldn't begin to buy more pure pleasure anywhere else. Here's beauty that's putting the high-priced cars in the shade.

Here's action that'll have you driving the long way home just for the fun of it. You owe yourself this new Chevrolet. Come in and see how easily you can swing it!

YOU CAN PAY A LOT MORE MONEY AND STILL NOT GET ALL THESE CHEVROLET ADVANTAGES!

Body by Fisher

Found in many of America's costliest cars - you get it only in Chevrolet in the low-price field.

12-Volt Electrical System

Delivers twice the punch for quicker starting in all weather; better ignition for finer performance!

Ball-Race Steering

Special ball bearings in the steering gear reduce friction... make steering a lot easier.

Outrigger Rear Springs

Spaced wide apart to give you sure-footed stability on curves.

Anti-Dive Braking

An exclusive Chevrolet development greatly reduces "nose down" under sudden stops.

High-Level Ventilation

Takes in air above road heat, fumes and dust. Rain is kept out.
